FAIRBURY POLICE DEPARTMENT

Evan Henkel

Evan comes from Flanagan, Illinois. He never thought he would be a cop. He has been a CNN at a nursing home, worked in construction, and did go to college at ISU. He took PTI training in Champaign.

It was 12 weeks of running and then running some more. He started with the department working nights for 6 months. Nights tend to be busier. Day shifts usually consist of driving arrests and drugs. Drugs have been reduced in Fairbury. Most of the people in Fairbury are good people. A warning ticket goes a long way. 95% of the town and people do not need policing. The other 5% are a problem. Evan loves to work here and looks forward to going to work. The two main drugs are pot and heroin. As far as gang influence, we had a few but most are gone.

Evan answered questions about himself and the department.

Bits & Pieces

True heroism is remarkably sober, very undramatic. It is not the urge to surpass all others at whatever cost, but the urge to serve others at whatever cost.

Arthur Ashe (1943-1993), Tennis player

If you want to succeed in the world you must make your own opportunities as you go on. The man who waits for some seventh wave to toss him on dry land will find that the seventh wave is a long time a-coming.

John B. Gough (1817-1886), Temperance advocate and speaker
